

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director, Public Affairs 212

FROM: Executive Assistant to the DDCI

George,

Thanks for the attached. If you pass Item B on to Personnel, the DDCI would like you to do so with a word of caution. Often when former intelligence officers start running courses like this, they try to turn to the Agency to serve as a "lending library" and speakers bureau for their courses. We should be careful not to get drawn into that kind of syndrome.

John,

Two items FYI:

a.) [redacted] says your speech at Maxwell was sensational. Very well received.

b.) [redacted] is giving a seminar on intelligence at Yale University. Yale planned on 18 students attending. 108 applied! The recruiters should be able to make something of this.
